

About EuropaNova

EuropaNova had been founded in 2003, on the initiative of Guillaume Klossa and young European workers wishing to accelerate the march towards a democratic, economic and social European public power. The think tank's works aims toward an European Union able to withstand crises and temptations to fall back on itself, committed to a balanced globalization respectful of individuals, cultures and concerned with a sustainable development of the planet. EuropaNova Collective is chaired today by Denis Simonneau.

www.europanova.eu - @Europa_Nova

About Renaissance Numérique

Renaissance Numérique was born in 2007 from a strong conviction shared by its founders, that there is a need to anticipate the digital transformation of society to ensure that it does not induce new fractures. Ten years later, the think tank continues its mission of supporting the digital transition of public action and its goal of an inclusive, fair and growth-oriented digital society. It currently has about forty members (entrepreneurs, major Internet companies, researchers and academics, representatives of civil society).

www.renaissancenumerique.org - @RNumerique

About Das Progressive Zentrum

Das Progressive Zentrum, located in Berlin, is an independent and non-profit think tank. Its aim is to foster new networks of progressive actors from different backgrounds and to promote innovative politics as well as economic and social progress. In this respect, Das Progressive Zentrum gathers many young thinkers and decision-makers from Germany and Europe in its progressive debates.

www.progressives-zentrum.org - @DPZ_Berlin

#EUDigitalChallenges

"Artificial intelligence: how to support the European voice in the global race?"

July 11, 6:30pm to 8pm

EuropaNova, 64bis avenue de New York, Paris

EuropaNova
Action pour une Europe politique supported by

Artificial intelligence: How to support the European voice in the global race?

Hot topic nowadays, artificial intelligence is a general technology affecting all sectors. Ethics, investments, training, flow of data... European Union faces many issues to develop it properly in order to be able to compete in the global race against China or the United States. Can EU promote its own approach to artificial intelligence? What role can the Franco-German couple play in this world race?

Programme

- 7:15 Welcoming introduction
- Henri Isaac, President of Renaissance Numérique - @Hisaac25
  - Denis Simonneau, President of EuropaNova - @DeniSimonneau
- 7:30 Round table with a French and German panel
- 8:40 Questions from the audience
- 9:00 Cocktail

The debate will be moderated by Guillaume Klossa, founder of EuropaNova and Director of the European Broadcasting Union.
- @GuillaumeKlossa

Speakers

Laurence Devillers - @Lau_devil

Laurence Devillers is professor at the Paris-Sorbonne University and researcher at the National Center for Scientific Research (CNRS). Member of the Commission for the Ethics of Research in Information Sciences and Technologies of Digital Allistène (CERNA), she participated to the report on Ethics in robotics. Expert of affective dimensions in our interactions with machines, she is a member of Renaissance Numérique.

Anke Domscheit-Berg - @anked

Member of the German Bundestag since 2017, Anke Domscheit-Berg is a network activist and publicist. She is the speaker for Internet policy of the Left Party and a member of the Commission on digitalization, as well as a deputy member of the Commission on Traffic and Digital Infrastructure and of the Commission on Education, Research and Technological Impact Assessment. Her main field of expertise is the digital society.

Marc Mossé - @marcmoss2

Marc Mossé is Senior Director for EU Government Affairs team of Microsoft Europe. He founded Microsoft France's think-lab online to discuss the impact of the digital revolution (rslmag.fr). He is President-elect of the French Association of In-House Lawyers (AFJE), and a member of the Copyright Advisory Board (CSPLA) to the French Ministry of Culture. He is also one of the founder of the French digital think tank called Renaissance Numérique.

Max Neufeind - @maxneufeind

Max Neufeind is a policy advisor on digitalization at the German Federal Ministry of Finance. He previously worked as a policy advisor on the future of work at the German Federal Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs and as a research associate at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH). In 2017 he was a John F. Kennedy memorial fellow at Harvard University.

Cédric Villani - @VillaniCedric

Elected member of French Parliament in 2017, Cédric Villani is a mathematician known to have won several international awards, including the Fields Medal in 2010. Since then, he is spokesperson and ambassador of the French mathematical community. Recently, he led a French official report on artificial intelligence. In addition to that, he is vice-president of the think tank EuropaNova.