

7 May 2014 – European Workshop on Opening Up Education In Schools (under the Patronage of the Greek Presidency of the European Union)

This interactive European Workshop for Teachers, School Authorities and Policy Makers focuses the potentials and needs for school modernization. Innovative approaches can address the societal and global challenges and will be presented and discussed. Leading experts and practitioners will debate with the audience the question how Opening Up Education In Schools can work and facilitate new ways of teaching and learning. The workshop consists of two sessions: First, a theoretical session in the morning and second, a hands-on session in the afternoon. Discussion is always welcome in both sessions.
