

ECONOMICS OF POPULISM

Press conference invitation

It is my pleasure to invite you to a press conference to mark the launch of the European Economic Advisory Group (EEAG) report 2017 on the “Economics of Populism”.

The report explains what the populist economic agenda is, why it is misleading and how national governments and the EU can respond. It also analyses how Brexit could be a bridge to EU reform and considers the economic implications of immigration by weighing up the “More versus Less Europe” policy approaches to dealing with it.
